Manufacturing. The Safest Tanks in Motion

Strength Through Design!

Rotational moulding is one of several types of plastic moulding processes. Typically its used to manufacture large hollow products such as our transportable tanks.

A measured quantity of polyelthylene powder is placed into a steel mould which is rotated in a heated oven.

The raw material melts, lining the inside of the mould. Once all the powder has melted and its texture has become like honey, the mould is removed from the oven and rotated while cooling.

This helps to maintain the shape while the polyethylene solidifies.

This procedure may sound simple but there is a crucial human element in the process, ensuring that every tank is cooked to perfection.

Our unmatched craftsmanship and engineered mould tooling, is reflected in every moulded TTi tank.

TTi's in-house rotomoulding facilities allows complete control over the quality process, and the confidence we have in our tanks is shown in the 20-year factory warranty.

AquaTrans™ / AquaMove™

Water Cartage Tanks

AquaTrans™ with 20-Year Warranty

There is nothing much in the way of a rotationally moulded polyethylene water cartage tank that compares with the TTI AquaTrans™ tank range.

A really heavy-duty tank with a 20-year warranty is just part of the deal. The AquaTrans™ is a premium product and is in a league of its own. This is the bees' knees!

Note: Detailed Tank Technical Drawings Available Online

AquaMove™ with 15-Year Warranty

Without any compromise, the AquaMove™ range has been introduced to be a player in the price sensitive end of the market.

With a slightly lighter design than the AquaTrans and a 15-year warranty, this is the everyday range.

In the heat of the moment, you can always rely on TTI's Fire Fighting Equipment!

“ I can say that their 1000L slip on units are fantastic, and that the two we bought this year were instrumental in saving our farms and a neighbour's house in the Yeppoon / Cobraball bushfires. When I ordered our second unit I considered it as cheap insurance!
